Dear Bruce,

As a long-established member of the Los Angeles business community, THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER has been aware of your relentless energies in assisting with the community's business demands. The high standards set and caliber of work performed by EMCO Financial Limited has been a contributing factor to the community's growth and job development. EMCO's services have met the requirements of those in need.

From time to time we hear about resolved situations and care to recognize other's accomplishments. We would like to take this opportunity to state that your expertise and highly knowledgeable capabilities-in the fields of finance and management activities-have proven to be a valuable asset to those you have assisted. It has strengthened our community in total, as well. We wish you every continued success.

Sincerely,

Tichi Wilkerson Kassel
